Dear Parents and Carers

Parents Information Evening and Year 11 PPEs

I wanted to write to you about the upcoming Parents information evening on the 6th of November. The main purpose of this is to talk about the upcoming Pre-Public Examinations (PPEs) and how students can prepare for them. The PPEs are essentially mock GCSE exams and give students a chance to show off their amazing hard work they have put in this year.

The PPEs will run from 17th November to the 28th November, I have attached the timetable to this letter for your convenience and emailed it to students' school email addresses. You will see that we have included which topics are being assessed in each paper so students know what to revise, furthermore, the version emailed to students has hyperlinks to websites which students can revise for specific to each assessment.

Students have also been given a paper copy of the PPE timetable which I recommend you stick up somewhere visible in the house, so you can keep on track of which assessments are coming up next and know how to prepare for them together. At the Parents Information Evening, you and your child will be given more free flash cards for students to use in their revision.

Finally, please remember that our Henley Bank High School Sixth Form Open Evening is on the 27th of November, we would love to see as many of you as possible there!

If you have any questions please don't hesitate to get in touch.

Yours sincerely,

Mr Watson
